FOUNDER STORY

HON'BLE DR. PATANGRAO KADAM

Founder- Chancellor
Bharati Vidyapeeth (Deemed to be University)

Dr. Kadam came to Pune in 1961, where he completed a one-year Diploma Course in Teaching. The following year, he began his career as a part-time teacher in a secondary school run by the Rayat Shikshan Sanstha. He went on to earn a Bachelor's Degree in Law and a Master's Degree from the University of Pune.

Balancing his commitments to educational, social, and political causes, Dr. Kadam pursued his research on "Administrative Problems of Educational Administration in the 80s", earning a Ph.D. in Management from the University of Pune.

In 1964, at just 20 years of age, Dr. Kadam founded Bharati Vidyapeeth with a vision to create a distinct institution dedicated to quality education. This vision came to reality when, on the recommendation of the University Grants Commission, the Government of India granted Bharati Vidyapeeth the status of a Deemed-to-be University.

Today, Bharati Vidyapeeth (Deemed-to-be University) encompasses 29 constituent units, 8 schools, 7 departments, and over 160 programs, all working toward its mission of "Social Transformation through Dynamic Education."

A hospitality degree that pays you back

When Arnav Ghai joined SP Jain Global's Hospitality Business Leadership (HBL) program, he knew he didn't just want a degree, he wanted a real path into the global hospitality world. Today, he's working with The Ritz-Carlton in Portugal, a role he landed straight out of his six-month paid internship during the program.

In hospitality, a master's is only worth it if it opens doors and pays for itself quickly. SP Jain Global's hospitality program, offered with Gfion Institute of Higher Education, Switzerland, ranked 5th in the world for Hospitality Management by QS, is designed to do exactly that.

It provides what most programs promise but rarely deliver: a six-month paid internship with some of the world's top hotels and resorts. Think The Ritz-Carlton (Japan), Hilton (Switzerland), St. Regis (US), Jumeirah (UAE), Taj (India), Fairmont (Singapore). This isn't just token experience. It's real operational work, a competitive stipend, and a direct path to final placement.

For many graduates, this internship is the bridge to roles that pay up to INR 72 lakhs a year, a clear, tangible ROI that sets this program apart in an industry known for tough entry barriers. On top of that, dedicated career support teams in India and Switzerland help you craft a CV that recruiters notice, prep for interviews, and match you with employers looking for more than just classroom knowledge.

From Asia to Europe: One program, two perspectives

Before you step into the industry, you'll spend five months at SP Jain Global's Mumbai campus learning how Asia's fastest-growing hospitality markets work. You learn about business strategy, day-to-day operations, people management and the cultural insights that shape service in this region. Then, five months later, you're placed directly into final offers heads, and hospitality consultants who push you to solve real problems, lead diverse teams, and adapt to fast-moving global trends.

The internship is the program's centerpiece. Not a filler or an afterthought. Six months of paid work that gives you more than just a line on your CV. It's proof you can handle real responsibility and fit into one of the world's best hospitality brands. Many students convert these experiences directly into final offers and asset management, loyalty management, and brand ambassador positions. Graduates have gone on to work with global brands such as EMWH (Global), Omega (Switzerland), Richemont (Global), and Cartier (France) in roles that blend hospitality expertise with business acumen and brand strategy.

You don't invest time and money in a master's to tick a box. You do it to accelerate your career, earn back your investment fast, and build global credibility.
